ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
JANUARY 1, 1868. }

To the Honorable Speaker of the House of Representatives.

SIR:—I have the honor to transmit to the legislature a report, which is appended, of the cases argued, tried or conducted by the Attorney General of the Commonwealth during the year 1867. A change having occurred in the office during the year, some of these cases were conducted by my predecessor, and others by myself.

In compliance with the duty imposed upon me, I have given opinions upon various questions of law submitted to me by the Governor and other officers of the Commonwealth, and a condensed statement is hereto appended of the substance of some of them, which are deemed proper to be made public at this time, in order that it may be known what construction has been put upon the constitutional and statutory provisions under consideration.

It is likewise made my duty to present such observations and statements as in my opinion the criminal jurisprudence and the proper and economical administration of the criminal law warrant and require.

The most conspicuous fact to which I desire to call attention is the increase of homicides within this Commonwealth.

Three degrees of criminal homicide are recognized by the statutes of Massachusetts, namely: murder in the first degree, murder in the second degree, and manslaughter. The first is punishable by death, the second by imprisonment for life, and the third by imprisonment not exceeding twenty years, or by fine.

There is no distinction in the form of indictment for the two degrees of murder; but a general charge of murder is set forth, and the degree is found by the jury. Within the past year no less than ten indictments for murder have been pending in the courts of the Commonwealth, and several homicides have recently occurred, upon which no indictments have yet been found.

Of these various indictments, but one has been tried within the year, namely, that against Rounds, in Suffolk County, which was tried by my predecessor. After the evidence for the Commonwealth had been put in, the prisoner tendered a plea of guilty of murder in the second degree, which was accepted, and he was sentenced accordingly. Two other indictments are pending in Suffolk County, and an early trial of them is expected. Of the remaining seven indictments, two have not yet reached the Supreme Judicial Court; in two instances it has been deemed advisable to substitute indictments for manslaughter in place of the indictments for murder; in one instance a plea of guilty of manslaughter has been accepted, and in two instances the prisoners have been committed to insane hospitals before trial, under the provisions of General Statutes, chapter 172, section 14.

As has been intimated above, there is at present no mode of presenting in an indictment a charge of murder in the second degree. If an indictment for murder is found, it is transmitted to and entered in the Supreme Judicial Court when next in session for the county. In some counties the terms of that court are so infrequent that considerable delays in trials for murder are often inevitable. Thus, the only term of that court held in Norfolk County is in February, and if a murder is committed there in March, the indictment cannot ordinarily be entered in the Supreme Judicial Court for eleven months afterwards; and not until then can a time be fixed for the trial, which will probably be as much as two months later.

I respectfully recommend a change in the statutes, so that indictments for murder may, if the grand jury choose, specify the degree of murder intended to be charged; and that indictments for murder in the second degree may be tried in the Superior Court; and that indictments for murder in the first degree shall at once be transmitted to and entered in the Supreme Judicial

Court for the county at any time, either in term time or vacation; and that the clerk of the Supreme Judicial Court for the county shall thereupon send notice thereof to the chief or first justice of the Supreme Judicial Court and to the Attorney General, with a copy of the indictment, and a time may thereupon be appointed by said justice, or any other justice, of said court, for the arraignment of the prisoner upon the indictment, which time may be either in term time or vacation; and the proceedings upon his arraignment, and all other proceedings in the case, may be as now provided by law.

The number of criminal cases in which questions of law have been brought from the Superior Court to the Supreme Judicial Court, upon exceptions or appeal, is very large; and during the past year, as heretofore, the rulings of the Superior Court have been affirmed in a very large proportion of them. In many cases, indeed, when the cases have been reached, the counsel for the defendants have not attempted to support their appeals or exceptions by argument.

Thus, in Barnstable County, where there were two cases, in both the exceptions were overruled; in Berkshire County, where there was but a single case, the exceptions were waived; in Franklin, Hampshire and Hampden Counties, where there were sixteen cases, the exceptions were overruled in every instance; in Worcester County, where there were thirty-six cases, the rulings of the Superior Court were affirmed, either upon argument or without argument, in thirty-two instances, and reversed in three, one case being still undecided; in Plymouth, where there were three cases, the exceptions were overruled in every instance; in Bristol, the exceptions were overruled in ten cases, and sustained in one case; and in the other counties, the cases from which were heard in Boston, and were conducted in part by my predecessor, sixty-nine cases have been decided, in sixty-one of which the rulings of the Superior Court were affirmed, and in eight reversed. In all, the rulings of the Superior Court have been affirmed in one hundred and twenty-five cases, and reversed in twelve cases.

This statement clearly shows, what I believe the opinions of all judges and prosecuting officers of experience will confirm, that in very many instances questions are raised in criminal cases which are clearly frivolous or immaterial or intended for delay. There are two principal evils incident to this practice. One is the delay of justice. This is partially met by the provision in General Statutes, chapter 115, section 10, providing that in such cases the presiding justice may pass sentence, notwithstanding the allowance of exceptions. The other is the increased cost of the administration of the criminal law. At present the whole costs in criminal cases, including copies of the papers, are taxed to the counties. It seems to me that it is practicable to discriminate between cases which present questions proper for judicial determination and those which do not; and that in the latter class of cases the defendants may properly be required to pay their own costs.

By the provisions of General Statutes, chapter 86, section 50, when intoxicating liquors, seized upon search-warrants, have been adjudged to be forfeited to the Commonwealth, such liquors as are deemed suitable for certain specified uses are to be delivered over to the agents of cities and towns to be sold, and the net proceeds are to be paid over to the treasurer of the Commonwealth. Probably a considerable quantity of such liquors has been delivered over, during the several years that the above provision, and the similar one in a preceding statute, have been in force; and some such liquors have probably been sold by the agents, and others probably now remain in their hands, the property of the Commonwealth.

The treasurer or other officers having general charge of the property of the Commonwealth have received no notice when liquors were so delivered over to agents of cities or towns, and have no means of knowledge to enable them to bring such agents to account; and I am apprehensive that the Commonwealth may have lost some money by reason of the failure of such agents to pay over the avails of forfeited liquors to the Commonwealth. On inquiry at the office of the treasurer, I find that no sum has ever been received by him from forfeited liquors until the past year, when one thousand dollars was received through this office, upon a compromise of a litigated claim.

Deeming this matter within the general scope of my duty, I respectfully recommend some appropriate legislation adapted to ascertain what property of this description, belonging to the Commonwealth, now remains in the hands of the liquor agents of the various towns and cities, and what sums, if any, may be due from such present or past agents, on account of sales thereof.

I also respectfully recommend the passage of a statute providing that, in addition to present provisions upon the subject, any justice of any court of record may at any time, in term time or in vacation, order witnesses for the Commonwealth in any case pending before such court, to recognize, either with or without sureties, to appear and testify at the next or any succeeding term of the said court, and may issue proper process to bring such witnesses before him for the purpose.

The statute of 1867, chapter 254, authorizes the Commonwealth to challenge two jurors peremptorily in criminal causes. I have not been able to learn that thus far this power has ever been exercised. I have instituted inquiries of the various district attorneys for the purpose of being able to give complete information on this subject. In the absence of such complete information, I desire respectfully to submit my own opinion, adopted after much consideration, though without opportunity of observing its practical operation, that the statute is a wise one and should be retained, at least until further trial. It seems to me proper that, in the trial of an ordinary criminal offence—murder, assault, larceny, burglary, forgery, or the like—the prosecuting officer should possess the power to set aside a limited number of jurors, who may appear to him to be clearly unfit to sit in judgment upon the case, although no legal reason can be assigned for his exclusion.

In the last report of the Attorney General, certain cases were referred to which had been carried on writs of error to the Supreme Court of the United States. These have all been decided in favor of the Commonwealth.

Two civil actions brought by the Commonwealth to recover taxes from corporations, have within the past year been carried on writs of error to the Supreme Court of the United States, and are now pending therein.

Notwithstanding the great number of criminal cases which require attention, the principal labor and responsibility in the discharge of the duties of this office still arise from the civil business. The whole number of civil cases pending in court in which the Commonwealth is a party or interested, now in charge of the Attorney General, is forty-six, and some of these involve large pecuniary values, and questions of importance and difficulty.

The amount of money collected in this office for the Commonwealth during the past year has been $49,405.25.

I respectfully repeat the recommendation of my predecessor, that the Attorney General may be authorized to appoint an assistant, who, under his direction, may aid him in the performance of his official duties.

I have the honor to be,

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

CHARLES ALLEN.

A B S T R A C T S

Of Official Opinions of the Attorney General, from May 1st to December 31st, 1867.

ALIEN PASSENGERS.

One who, not being a sailor by occupation, nor intending to become one, but desiring simply to be transported from one port to another, makes a contract with the master of a vessel by which he is to work his passage, is a passenger, within the meaning of Gen. Sts. c. 71, § 15, prohibiting alien passengers to be landed in this Commonwealth without giving bond or paying head money; and the fact that such person is entered on the ship's list as one of the crew, at a merely nominal rate of wages, will not vary this construction.

CONSTITUTIONAL LAW.

A statute authorizing the Commonwealth, in a criminal cause, to challenge peremptorily two of the jurors from the panel called to try the cause, is constitutional.

It is competent for the general court to pass an act uniting two municipal corporations, with a provision that the same shall not take effect unless accepted by a vote of the majority of the inhabitants of both of them within a specified time.

EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN IN FACTORIES.

Under St. 1867, c. 285, no child between the age of ten and fifteen years may be employed in any manufacturing or mechanical establishment within this Commonwealth, unless he has attended school at least three months during the twelve months next preceding such employment.

The effect of the first proviso in the same section is, that this rule applies to every such child who has lived within the Commonwealth during the preceding six months.

FISHERIES (RIVER).

The Commissioners of River Fisheries may use part of the money provided by St. 1867, c. 344, for building fish-ways over dams, where the proprietors of the dams are not bound to establish them.

INCOMPATIBILITY OF OFFICES.

A register of probate who accepted the office of register of bankruptcy under the laws of the United States, before the passage of St. 1867, c. 357, § 2, is not entitled to continue in both offices; but, unless he resigns his office of register of bankruptcy, he ought to be removed from his office of register of probate.

INTOXICATING LIQUORS.

The term of office of a town liquor agent, appointed under Gen. Sts. c. 86, § 17, extends to the full period of twelve calendar months from the date of his appointment, although such appointment is not made until after the expiration of three months from the first Monday of May; unless the certificate of his appointment shows on its face that his term of office is to expire on the first Monday of May.

City and town liquor agents have no authority to sell forfeited intoxicating liquors, which come to them under decree of court, except for medicinal, chemical and mechanical purposes, or to be used in the arts.

Such agents have no authority to sell such liquors to persons who buy to sell again; but only to consumers.

In selling forfeited liquors which come to city or town liquor agents under decree of court, such agents act as agents of the Commonwealth, and not as agents of the cities or towns or of the state liquor commissioner; and they are entitled to a reasonable compensation for their services.

The authority of special agents of the state liquor commissioner, appointed by him in the city of Boston, under Gen. Sts. c. 86, § 9, is limited to the sale of liquors received by him from the commissioner. Such agents are simply agents of the commissioner, and are in no respect agents of the city.

If forfeited liquors which come to the possession of agents of cities or towns for sale, under decree of court, are found to be impure, or become impure while in their possession, they have no authority to sell the same in a state of impurity, or to sell the same to rectifiers or distillers, to be converted into alcohol and sold again; but they may cause such liquors to be rectified, acting for the Commonwealth, and using reasonable and proper means therefor, subject always to express directions from the Commonwealth or its proper officers.

LOAN AND FUND ASSOCIATIONS.

There is no statute now in force authorizing the incorporation of loan and fund associations, without special charters.

PAUPERS.

If state pauper children, who are not liable to be a charge to the state for more than six months, are in any of the state almshouses, it is the duty of the superintendent thereof to furnish to them such instruction as may be reasonable, under the circumstances; and to this end he may properly arrange for their instruction in the common schools of the town in which the almshouse is situated, and pay therefor a reasonable sum; and in his account with the state he may properly be allowed for the same.

The Gen. Sts. c. 71, § 7, do not authorize sending a pauper, against his consent, out of this Commonwealth to another state in which he may have recently gained a settlement, provided he has a derivative settlement in any town within this Commonwealth.

PEDDLERS.

Watches and watch chains are not jewelry, within the meaning of Gen. Sts. c. 50, § 15, prohibiting hawkers and peddlers from selling jewelry and other articles.

PROVINCETOWN HARBOR.

The commissioners appointed under Res. 1867, c. 86, in determining upon a plan to be reported by them for the protection and preservation of Cape Cod Harbor at Provincetown, are not limited to the method which is mentioned in the last clause of the first section of the resolve. The purpose of that provision was to enlarge and not to restrict their power.

The governor and council have no authority, under that resolve, to approve of a plan for the protection and preservation of Cape Cod Harbor at Provincetown, which by the estimate of the commissioners requires an expenditure of $149,000.

SCHOOL FUND.

The new shares received by way of stock dividend upon the shares held, as a portion of the school fund, in the Western Railroad Corporation, should not be distributed as income, but should be added to the principal of that fund.

STATE HOUSE.

No appropriation of money having been made by the legislature to meet the expense of making the alterations, improvements and repairs in the State House, provided for in Res. 1867, c. 84, the general authority conferred upon the commissioners therein named to carry out the purpose of the resolve includes authority to do so upon the credit of the Commonwealth.

Under the peculiar circumstances of the present case, if the commissioners can effect a material saving to the Commonwealth by borrowing money and giving a note or notes therefor in the name of the Commonwealth, and if they have complied with the requirements of the resolve in reference to contracting for the whole of the work within the maximum sum there fixed, they have authority to give such note or notes in the name of the Commonwealth, not exceeding that sum.

The language of the resolve does not require the commissioners to contract for the whole work upon the State House in a single contract.

Since the death of the president of the senate, the full power originally conferred upon him and the speaker of the house of representatives, in making the alterations, improvements and repairs in the State House, vests in the latter.

TAXES.

Under St. 1862, c. 224, a tax is to be levied and collected upon the full amount of all premiums actually received by insurance companies for insurance, either in cash or in notes absolutely payable; without any deduction for re-insurance, in case a re-insurance is afterwards effected. And it is immaterial that such re-insurance is effected on the same day with the original insurance.

The rule is no different in this respect if a re-insurance is rendered necessary in order to comply with the requirement of Gen. Sts. c. 58, § 32, providing that no stock company shall hold, on any one risk, a sum exceeding one-tenth of the capital existing, and surplus, after making certain deductions.

If premium notes are taken for a percentage of the nominal sum covered by an open policy of insurance, before any risks are indorsed thereon, and before such policy attaches to any actual risk, such notes are not taxable under St. 1862, c. 224, as premiums actually received; but it should be ascertained, in such case, what premiums have been received upon actual contracts of insurance.

Under St. 1865, c. 283, § 4, in estimating the fair cash valuation of all the shares constituting the capital stock of the Boston and Lowell Railroad Corporation, for the purpose of taxation, the tax commissioner should include the added value which the stock issued on or before December 5th, 1866, has acquired from the fact that a dividend is promised to be paid upon it in 1873.

Co-operative associations organized under St. 1866, c. 290, are taxable under the provisions of St. 1865, c. 283, §§ 3-5.
